

Solution Provider: Compressor Maintenance Program

By Jim Zuccarell, Sales Leader for Industrial Products and Services

Let's face it, in today's economic climate any costs saving measures are worth a second look. We have found that another area that often needs a second look is equipment maintenance. If you put the two ideas together you get Industrial Gas Technology's Compressor Maintenance Program. We have combined training, preventative maintenance and lower parts costs with an industry exclusive two year warranty. The result: improved equipment reliability and efficiency, streamlined spare parts stocking and re-ordering for critical equipment and lower overall cost of ownership.

Our customers are finding that training is the key. Having educated technicians carry out maintenance ensures it is done properly and they know what to look for to prevent catastrophic damage that slows or stops production costing thousands of dollars. Additionally, our customers enjoy the peace of mind they get from our Two-Year Workmanship Warranty. By enrolling in our program, your equipment is never out of warranty and is recertified every 24 months.

Just imagine lower cost of parts inventory with our exclusive Spare Parts Kits, increased efficiency, decreased down time, recertified compressors every 24 months, equipment continually under warranty and overall lower cost of ownership for your critical process compressors. Once again, Industrial Gas Technology is bringing high value solutions to the marketplace.
